ADDENDUM
to the Minutes of the February 15, 2018
CCHD Board of Health Meeting

Notes on special environmental health presentation.

While waiting for a quorum of Board members to arrive for the meeting, Sartucci asked the evening's guest speaker, Barbara Gigliotti, Supervising Sanitarian at CCHD, to proceed with her presentation.

Gigliotti presented, "An Update on the CCHD Food Protection Program and the New FDA Food Code":

- CCHD mission is to enforce the Connecticut Public Health Code and ensure the health and safety of the public.
- This is accomplished through licensing, inspections and regulatory oversight of businesses which offer services to the public that could potentially transmit infectious diseases or cause other harm.
- CCHD regulates five kinds of businesses (food establishments, hair and nail salons, public swimming pools, motels/hotels, and child care centers).
- In addition, the agency issues permits and provides oversight on private water supply wells and onsite subsurface sewage disposal systems.
- Lastly, CCHD provides monitoring and oversight of lead poisoning cases and handles a wide variety of complaints from the public and regulated community.

Gigliotti also provided an overview of the registered sanitarian (RS) role, educational preparation, certifications and responsibilities at CCHD. One supervising sanitarian (who is also an RS) and 4 full-time registered sanitarians are employed by CCHD. One RS is currently assigned to each town.

She invited, and Brown encouraged, Board members to consider spending a day with one of the environmental health staff in the field to see their work firsthand.
